WHILE A DANCE WAS ON

There Was Slugging Going On.

DISGRACEFUL SCENES AT A DANCE

Three Intoxicated Persons the Cause of a Melee at the Eagle Club Rooms on Market Street Last Night—One Fellow Badly Used Up.

During the progress of a dance at the rooms of the Eagle club on Market street last night a small edition of a riot occurred, which may be followed by a number of arrests. After the dance had started three young men named Homer Stillwell, Chas. Hayes and Charles Armstrong, the latter of Wellsville, entered the rooms for the purpose of taking part in the evening's festivities, which subsequently they did, but in an entirely different way to what they expected.

It is claimed by the members of the club that the above designated young men were intoxicated, and that one of them grossly insulted a young lady who was in attendance at the rooms.

For this unbecoming conduct the two were told to leave, which they refused to do. Angry words followed, and during the excitement somebody's fist came in violent contact with somebody else's head, and in the twinkling of an eye pandemonium had full sway. For the space of a few minutes it seemed as if every male person in the building wished to display his pugilistic ability. The ladies screamed, the men shouted, the fighters swore, and on the whole, as an exhibition of varied and unharmonious innocent pastime, it was a howling success.

This state of affairs however, did not last very long. Officers Earl and Jennings were apprised of the tumultuous gathering and straightway set out at a high rate of speed for the scene of the battle. Both arrived on the spot in due season, neck and neck, and found that piece and quietness once more reigned supreme.

The unwelcome visitors had been ejected and no arrests were made. The members of the club say that they will not prosecute the fellows who caused the quarrel.

LOOKED OVER THE LINE.

Two Officials Here—Some Changes May be Made.

Secretary A. J. Davies, of the East Liverpool and Wellsville Electric Street railway, accompanied by the company's attorney, L. A. Russell, of Cleveland, arrived in the city yesterday afternoon. Contrary to expectation, President Horace Andrews could not be present, owing to having been detained by important business. Mr. Davies was seen and explained to a reporter that their business here was to look over the road. The greater part of the afternoon was devoted to this work. The secretary said that a number of radical changes would be made in the road. "If I would tell you what we propose to do it would take me half an hour," said Mr. Davies, "and if I told you what we ought to do it would take me an hour; if I would commence to try to tell you what we can not do, it would take me over two hours. There is one thing certain, we've either got to do or die." From the above conversation it appears as if the life of the company is one of uncertain tenure.

FELL FROM A CAR.

A Boy Attempts to Steal a Ride and Comes to Grief.

This morning, about 8 o'clock, a boy attempted to steal a ride on a street car, at the corner of Sixth and Washington streets, but lost his hold and fell to the street. His head struck the pavement with a thud, and it was at least 20 minutes before he fully recovered consciousness, reeling in front of the hotel in a dazed condition. There is much lack of vigilance on the part of officers as to car jumping, and it is a wonder there are not many serious accidents to record. We feel sure it will be sometime before the boy, who was the victim of the accident this morning, will attempt to board a moving car.

Christian Church Services.

At the church of Christ, corner of Robinson and Elm streets, the pastor, Elder C. W. Huffer, is delivering a series of illustrated sermons on the Bible and its different divisions and relations. The attendance has been large with manifestation of intense interest. Baptism has occurred each evening after the service so far. The service this evening will be a short discourse by the pastor, after which Elder John Karagiozian, a returned missionary from Armenia, will deliver an address on the subject, "My Experience of How I Was Saved." No one should fail to attend these helpful, simple gospel meetings. The pastor and church extend to the public a cordial invitation to attend the services each evening at 7:30 o'clock.

THE WRONG TEETH.

In His Excitement a Fireman Picks Up a Lady's Masticators.

An amusing incident is related of a fireman who will soon be clothed with official authority. During the progress of the fire at the Woodruff residence yesterday morning, the laddie was overcome by the dense smoke, and commenced a series of violent coughs and sneezing. After rushing to the window and breathing a supply of fresh air, he returned with a lantern, and looking under the bed, discovered a set of false teeth lying on the floor under the couch. He immediately pocketed the masticators, and after arriving at the fire station proceeded to tell the boys about the loss and recovery of his teeth. One of the boys noticed that his teeth were in place and informed him of the fact. The unfortunate man then verified the assertion, and feeling in his pocket, drew therefrom a set of ladies' teeth. He returned the teeth yesterday morning and received thanks from the owner.

THE LOTUS CLUB

Entertained Friends in a Handsome Manner.

The third ball given by the Lotus club at Brunt's hall was held last night and was a decided success. The dance was attended by fully 100 couples, who enjoyed themselves until an early hour this morning, being entertained as only the Lotus club can entertain. The calcium lights were introduced and added greatly to the enjoyment of all, the different colored lights as thrown upon the throng of happy people presenting an effect of superb beauty that seemed scarcely possible to be attained. Six colors were used and the lights were kept going all the time, the electric lights being disposed of. The dance was one of the most successful ever held in the city and reflects great credit upon the members of the Lotus club.

KIND WORDS.

The Steubenville Gazette Congratulates Our Women.

The following neat little editorial is taken from the Steubenville Gazette, and contains warm words of praise for the ladies who aided so materially in electing a school board that favor the reading of the Bible in the public schools:

"The women of East Liverpool have our congratulations for their grand and winning contest in behalf of the book of books, which, to satisfy a rampant infidel demand, had been excluded from the schools by the old board of education. As we understand it, not one of these time-servers calling themselves men was re-elected, but the woman's ticket came through triumphantly and the Bible will again be officially regarded. The women, so far as heard from, are doing good work for the Ohio schools."

HORSE TOOK FRIGHT

And a Gallant Young Man Sprang to the Rescue.

Yesterday afternoon as Miss Anna Pugh, of Hancock county, was driving down Broadway, near to the railroad crossing, a freight train came into sight and scared the horse. The restive animal commenced to rear and plunge and attempted to run away. A gallant young man, who was standing nearby, noticed the frantic actions of the animal and without a moment's hesitation he sprang to the rescue. After many attempts to pacify the fractious animal, and at the risk of being trampled under foot, the young man finally succeeded in subduing the animal to a state of docility.

THE MARSHAL-ELECT.

He Left City Hall, Becoming Acquainted With His Duties.

Marshal-elect Al Johnson is spending the greater part of his time at city hall, familiarizing himself with the duties which will soon be assigned to him. The new marshal may be sworn in this week, as Marshal Wyman will be unable to again enter upon his duties before the expiration of his term. Al is already surmising as to the prepossessing appearance he will make toggled in the uniform of marshal.

PROPOSITION ACCEPTED

The First U. P. Church Hold a Meeting and

TALK OVER THEY. M. C. A. OFFER

The Ground Will Be Leased For a Period of Ten Years, Provided Arrangements Can Be Made With the Owners of the Building.

At the congregational meeting of the First U. P. church last night, a proposition from the Young Men's Christian Association was received, offering $200 per year for the use of their ground, on which is erected the building of Quay & Co. The proposition was accepted on condition that satisfactory arrangements could be made with the owners of the building. The proposition asks for a lease of the ground for a period of 10 years, and it is thought matters can be consummated with Quay & Co. for the lease of their building.

If the Young Men's Christian association complete negotiations for the George property they will have convenient and handsome quarters. According to the plans, the gymnasium, bathroom, reading room, game room, secretary and physical director's office, and parlor will be on the first floor, while the second story will be used as an auditorium. The office of the secretary is so arranged that he can keep an eye on all departments, except the parlor. The stairway at the rear of the building will be moved to the front in order to get all the available room possible for the gymnasium. There is 40 feet of space back of the building, which will be used for out-of-door sports. The auditorium will be a beauty and will seat 600 people. A large stage will be built and all the entertainments that have been previously held in the opera house can be given in this room. The place will be lighted with electric lights throughout and everything made for the comfort of the members and guests.

Officers were also elected at the meeting to conduct the church affairs, and are as follows: President, Harry Gaston; secretary, Harry Pope; treasurer, J. W. Vodrev; trustees, Henry Abrams and J. D. West.

HE DOES NOT DRINK.

A Man Takes Exceptions to an Article in the News Reviews

A man took exception to the article published at the foot of the local brevity column yesterday, and called at the News Review office yesterday evening. He stated that he was strictly temperate and belonged to a temperance order. He admitted that he and his wife had quarreled, and that she had left for the home of her parents, but had returned, and household matters were running smoothly. He requested that a reporter call at his residence, 1334 Monroe street, and she would verify the statement that he did not look on the winecup, also referring us to the neighbors. We gladly make the correction, hoping that the couple may in future live in joy and felicity.

WILL GIVE SOCIALS.

The Ladies Auxiliary Arrange For One Each Week.

The Ladies Auxiliary to the Young Men's Christian association have instituted a series of socials, one to be held each week, for the benefit of the pottery employees. They don't want the good work accomplished by Evangelist Schiverra to subside, and have arranged accordingly. The meetings will be of a social character, and a neat and highly interesting program will be prepared each week for the event. It is expected that a great amount of good will be derived from these meetings, and that they will be well patronized. The first social of the series will be held Friday evening, April 17, in the Young Men's Christian association building.

THE FIRST GAME.

The Clay Hands of Sebring's Open Up the Baseball Season.

The baseball season is again upon us. This afternoon the clay hands of Sebring's pottery opened up the season by choosing two teams from the pottery, and each are engaged in doing battle for baseball supremacy across the river. From now until the end of the season the national game will have full sway.

Better Do It Here.

The New Cumberland people have got the base ball fever bad and have raised over $600 to put a first-class team in the field. They have fenced in a park and are going to meet any and all comers this season. It would be a good idea for the various clubs that are arranging here this season to combine and do the same thing and see how much money they could raise. The people of East Liverpool are ready to see a repetition of the famous Eclipse team and are willing to pay to have them.

THE BEANBAKE.

A Rousing Good Time Will Be Had at the Rink Tomorrow Night.

The Women's Relief corps, Grand Army and Sons of Veterans will give a delightful beanbake at the rink tomorrow night. To those who have never attended one of these pleasant events, in charge of the above orders, we can safely say that they have missed an opportunity of their lifetime, in so far as social enjoyments are concerned, but will have an opportunity to witness and partake of the festivities tomorrow evening. Speech making, exquisite music, neat floral and bunting decorations will serve to enhance the beauty of the occasion, while a palatable lunch, ice cream, soda, in fact all the delicacies of the season, will be served by agile and attentive waiters. And the admission only 35 cents, including supper.

Department Commander Townsend, who is one of the most eloquent speakers of the state, will be present and deliver an interesting talk. The proceeds of the bean bake goes into the relief funds.

PLEAD GUILTY.

And the Prisoners Were Committed to the Probate Judge.

Edward Jackson and William Williams, who were arrested in Steubenville yesterday, and brought to this city by Officer Earl charged with larceny, were arraigned before Mayor Gilbert this morning and both entered a plea of guilty.

The prisoners are penitents and are committed to the probate judge for sentence. They will be taken to Lisbon tomorrow morning. Williams and Jackson, in a conversation with a reporter, said that they were traveling over the country seeking employment, and gave Philadelphia as their home. Roth are talented as artists, and offered to rig up a miniature three masted schooner for Officer Earl if he would furnish the materials with which to do the work.

THE HORSE WENT MAD

From the Effects of a Dog Bite, Near Ohioville.

About three weeks ago a dog belonging to Silas Moore, a farmer living about two miles east of Ohioville, showed signs of hydrophobia, and was killed, but not until it had bitten one of the horses. On last Friday the horse went mad and cavorted around the stable snapping like a dog and finally wound up by breaking through the side of a barn. After some difficulty the horse was killed. It is not known whether any more of Mr. Moore's horses were bitten or not, but it is possible that they were, as the dog when it first began to act in a strange manner was shut up in the stable with his entire stock of horses.

AN ARMENIAN

Is Attending Services at the Christian Church.

An Armenian, of an unpronounceable name, is the center of attraction at the meetings being held in the Christian church. He gives short talks each evening which are interesting and well received by the audience. The Armenian came to this country some years ago to gain knowledge of the government and religious customs of the people, intending to return and impart his information to the people of his native land. Since his arrival here the trouble between the Turks and Armenians broke out, and he prefers staying in this country and live, than to return and be butchered by the murderous Turks.

A MENACE TO SAFETY.

A Sewer on Bradshaw Avenue in a Bad Way.

Residents of Bradshaw avenue complain of the condition that a sewer is in on an alley intersecting that street. The sewer is badly deranged and broken in some places so as to make vehicle traveling dangerous. A horse might step in this decay and be injured, and make a damage suit against the city possible.

Will Meet Tonight.

The congregational meeting of the First Presbyterian church will be held this evening. Officers for the ensuing year will be elected and other business of importance will be transacted.

A BIG DAMAGE SUIT

Is Settled After Pending For Four Years.

SMALL DAMAGE CASE DISMISSED

The Report of the Receivers in the Gazette Publishing Company Case Confirmed—Several Long Pending Cases Are Dismissed—Other Court News.

Special to the News Review.

LISBON, April 8.—Court confirmed and approved the report of the receivers in the case of T. H. Arbuckle against F. S. Crowl and others in settlement of the old Gazette Publishing company case, of East Liverpool.

The $20,000 damage case, brought about four years ago by Forest J. Farmer against the Wellsville Plate and Sheetiron company, was privately settled and withdrawn. Farmer brought action to recover damages for injuries received when in the employ of the above company by the explosion of a lamp, which was of necessity burning near the place in which he was working. His entire left side was terribly burned, and an ear was almost burned off.

The $3,000 damage case which was brought by Susan Kenglemyer against Salem city, which has been pending since 1892, was dismissed.

John S. Merry filed an action and took judgment against David Miller for $223.87. The action was based on a note for the amount.

The case brought a week ago by William B. Sherbine and others against Elizabeth Mathers and others, to clear a title to a 100 acre farm in Salem township, by reason of a lease given 30 years ago, was heard, and the lease cancelled by court.

Entries of dismissal were made in each of the following cases, which have been pending from term to term: Alex McCurdy versus A. F. Bertram; Minerva D. Prosser versus J. W. Russell and others; Mary McQuilkin versus Lydia Lowden and others; and William Lyon versus James Phillips.

The case of H. C. Jones, administrator, versus Levi B. Derr, to recover on a note was satisfactorily settled.

UPSET THE BOXES.

But the Smart Young Men Were Detected in the Act.

Last night three young men, those who consider themselves smart, tumbled a number of boxes that were standing in front of a Washington street grocery store into the gutter. They then proceeded leisurely up the street, unconscious that their actions had been observed by Officer Earl, who halted them and compelled them to retrace their steps and replace the boxes that had been upset. The young men will probably act with a larger degree of decorum hereafter.

A DEATH.

Peter Devlin Passes Away After a Long Illness.

Peter Devlin died at his residence, corner Seventh and Monroe streets, yesterday afternoon, after a long illness with a complication of diseases. Deceased was 71 years of age and highly respected by all who knew him. He has been a resident of this city for nearly 16 years. He leaves a wife and two children to mourn his demise. Funeral will take place tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock from St. Aloysius' church, and the remains will be interred in the Catholic cemetery.

A GOOD IDEA.

A Federationist Calls Attention to the Union Label.

A new idea of bringing the Typographical union label into prominence has been struck by John P. Arthur, of Manchester, N. H. He is acting as organizer for the American Federation of Labor in upper New England, and calls attention to the label on the back of his envelope in the following fashion:

See that this label is on the sheet before you buy it on the street. A paper run on the "crafty" plan Deserves the snub of every man.

Smashed His Wheel.

A young man who received a new wheel yesterday was not content to wait until favorable weather to try his machine but was racing up and down Fifth street in the chilly atmosphere of last night. While coming at a rapid speed toward Washington street he didn't notice the approach of a car, and to avoid collision dismounted without the formality of slowing up. The handle bars of his wheel were twisted and the enamel badly scratched, while the young man will have to consult a tailor to repair his clothing.

The Ladies Auxiliary to the Young Men's Christian association have instituted a series of socials, one to be held each week, for the benefit of the pottery employees. They don't want the good work accomplished by Evangelist Schiverea to subside, and have arranged accordingly. The meetings will be of a social character, and a neat and highly interesting program will be prepared each week for the event. It is expected that a great amount of good will be derived from these meetings, and that they will be well patronized. The first social of the series will be held Friday evening, April 17, in the Young Men's Christian association building.

THE FIRST GAME.

The Clay Hands of Sebring's Open Up the Baseball Season.

The baseball season is again upon us. This afternoon the clay hands of Sebring's pottery opened up the season by choosing two teams from the pottery, and each are engaged in doing battle for baseball supremacy across the river. From now until the end of the season the national game will have full sway.

Better Do It Here.

The New Cumberland people have got the base ball fever bad and have raised over $600 to put a first-class

team in the field. They have fenced in a park and are going to meet at night and all comers this season. It would be a good idea for the various clubs that are arranging here this season to combine and do the same thing and see how much money they could raise. The people of East Liverpool are ready to see a repetition of the famous Eclipse team and are willing to pay to have them.

THE BEANBAKE.

A Rousing Good Time Will Be Had at the Rink Tomorrow Night.

The Women's Relief corps, Grand Army and Sons of Veterans will give a delightful beanbake at the rink tomorrow night. To those who have never attended one of these pleasant events, in charge of the above orders, we can safely say that they have missed an opportunity of their lifetime, in so far as social enjoyments are concerned, but will have an opportunity to witness and partake of the festivities tomorrow evening. Speech making, exquisite music, neat floral and bunting decorations will serve to enhance the beauty of the occasion, while a palatable lunch, ice cream, soda, in fact all the delicacies of the season, will be served by agile and attentive waiters. And the admission only 35 cents, including supper.

Department Commander Townsend, who is one of the most eloquent speakers of the state, will be present and deliver an interesting talk. The proceeds of the bean bake goes into the relief funds.

PLEAD GUILTY.

And the Prisoners Were Committed to the Probate Judge.

Edward Jackson and William Williams, who were arrested in Steubenville yesterday, and brought to this city by Officer Earl charged with larceny, were arraigned before Mayor Gilbert this morning and both entered a plea of guilty.

The prisoners are penniless and committed to the probate judge for sentence. They will be taken to Lisbon tomorrow morning. Williams and Jackson, in a conversation with a reporter, said that they were traveling over the country seeking employment, and gave Philadelphia as their home. Both are talented as artists, and offered to rig up a miniature three masted schooner for Officer Earl if he would furnish the materials with which to do the work.

THE HORSE WENT MAD

From the Effects of a Dog Bite, Near Ohioville.

About three weeks ago a dog belonging to Silas Moore, a farmer living about two miles east of Ohioville, showed signs of hydrophobia, and was killed, but not until it had bitten one of the horses. On last Friday the horse went mad and cavorted around the stable snapping like a dog and finally wound up by breaking through the side of a barn. After some difficulty the horse was killed. It is not known whether any more of Mr. Moore's horses were bitten or not, but it is possible that they were, as the dog when it first began to act in a strange manner was shut up in the stable with his entire stock of horses.

AN ARMENIAN

Is Attending Services at the Christian Church.

An Armenian, of an unpronounceable name, is the center of attraction at the meetings being held in the Christian church. He gives short talks each evening which are interesting and well received by the audience. The Armenian came to this country some years ago to gain knowledge of the government and religious customs of the people, intending to return and impart his information to the people of his native land. Since his arrival here the trouble between the Turks and Armenians broke out, and he prefers staying in this country and live, than to return and be butchered by the murderous Turks.

A MENACE TO SAFETY.

A Sewer on Bradshaw Avenue in a Bad Way.

Residents of Bradshaw avenue complain of the condition that a sewer is in on an alley intersecting that street. The sewer is badly deranged and broken in some places so as to make vehicle traveling dangerous. A horse might step in this decay and be injured, and make a damage suit against the city possible.

Will Meet Tonight.

The congregational meeting of the First Presbyterian church will be held this evening. Officers for the ensuing year will be elected and other business of importance will be transacted.

A BIG DAMAGE SUIT

Is Settled After Pending For Four Years.

SMALL DAMAGE CASE DISMISSED

Special to the NEWS REVIEW.

Lisbon, April 8.—Court confirmed and approved the report of the receivers in the case of T. H. Arbuckle against F. S. Crowl and others in settlement of the old Gazette Publishing company case, of East Liverpool.

The $20,000 damage case, brought about four years ago by Forest J. Farmer against the Wellsville Plate and Sheelton company, was privately settled and withdrawn. Farmer brought action to recover damages for injuries received when in the employ of the above company by the explosion of a lamp, which was of necessity burning near the place in which he was working. His entire left side was terribly burned, and an ear was almost burned off.

The $3,000 damage case which was brought by Susan Kenglemyer against Salem city, which has been pending since 1892, was dismissed.

John S. Merry filed an action and took judgment against David Miller for $223.87. The action was based on a note for the amount.

The case brought a week ago by William B. Sherbine and others against Elizabeth Mathers and others, to clear a title to a 100 acre farm in Salem township, by reason of a lease given 30 years ago, was heard, and the lease cancelled by court.

Entries of dismissal were made in each of the following cases, which have been pending from term to term: Alex McCurdy versus A. F. Bertram, Minerva D. Prosser versus J. W. Russell and others, Mary McQuilkin versus Lydia Lowden and others, and William Lyon versus Reason Phillips.

The case of H. C. Jones, administrator, versus Levi B. Derr, to recover on a note was satisfactorily settled.

UPSET THE BOXES.

But the Smart Young Men Were Detected in the Act.

Last night three young men, those who consider themselves smart, tumbled a number of boxes that were standing in front of a Washington street, grocery store into the gutter. They then proceeded leisurely up the street, unconscious that their actions had been observed by Officer Earl, who halted them and compelled them to retrace their steps and replace the boxes that had been upset. The young men will probably act with a larger degree of decorum hereafter.

A DEATH.

Peter Devlin Passes Away After a Long Illness.

Peter Devlin died at his residence, corner Seventh and Monroe streets, yesterday afternoon, after a long illness with a complication of diseases. Deceased was 71 years of age and highly respected by all who knew him. He has been a resident of this city for nearly 16 years. He leaves a wife and two children to mourn his demise. Funeral will take place tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock from St. Aloysius' church, and the remains will be interred in the Catholic cemetery.

A GOOD IDEA.

A Federationist Calls Attention to the Union Label.

A new idea of bringing the Typographical union label into prominence has been struck by John P. Arthur, of Manchester, N. H. He is acting as organizer for the American Federation of Labor in upper New England, and calls attention to the label on the back of his envelope in the following fashion:

See that this label is on the sheet Before you buy it on the street. A paper run on the "risky" plan Deserves the snub of every man.

Smashed His Wheel.

A young man who received a new wheel yesterday was not content to wait until favorable weather to try his machine but was racing up and down Fifth street in the chilly atmosphere of last night. While coming at a rapid speed toward Washington street he didn't notice the approach of a car, and to avoid collision dismounted without the formality of slowing up. The handle bars of his wheel were twisted and the enamel badly scratched, while the young man will have to consult a tailor to repair his clothing.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., WEDNESDAY, APRIL 8

For President,
WILLIAM MCKINLEY,
OF OHIO.

NOBLE WOMEN.

The Christian women of East Liverpool are heroines, in the truest sense of the word. They battled, with energy and intelligence, against the common foe in the late election, and God will honor them in time and in eternity.

WHY MCKINLEY LEADS.

The following, from the New York Tribune, hits the nail on the head fairly and squarely, and drives it home: "If we rightly interpret public opinion, McKinley is the leading candidate of the Republican masses because his name stands first for what they want for their own material interests—a wholesome change in the tariff—and second for what they want from a more sentimental point of view, the privilege of having something to say themselves in the selection of rulers, without being dictated to by self-constituted 'bosses.'"

REWARD OF MERIT.

Frank Leslie Trump, the efficient foreman of the News Review composing room, has been promoted to the berth of city editor of this paper, and will have control of the front office force until Editor Morris is restored to his wonted health and strength. Mr. Trump has been associated with Messrs. Palmer & Morris for the past five years, and has demonstrated the fact that he is skillful, reliable and trustworthy. We take deep pleasure in commending him to the good graces of the patrons of the News Review and the citizens of East Liverpool.

STAY AT HOMES.

The women who failed to exercise their franchise in defense of God's holy word, must feel sorry that they can lay no claim to a part in the glorious victory. We know that some true women object to going to the polling places, on account of the rough element in the habit of assembling there; but these ladies must remember that, through the refining influence of their presence the polling places may be made just as quiet and orderly as in a well-conducted dry goods establishment. Exercise your franchise, good and true women of East Liverpool, and God will bless your home and family.

HONOR IS DUE.

Men and women of East Liverpool, ye who love the Bible and who advocate the lessons taught therein, don't fail to return thanks to Miss Little and the late Miss Jessop. By and through their grand stand for the inspired word of God, it was made possible for the Right to win. They are splendid samples of the stuff of which the martyrs were formed in the olden days. All honor to them for their sacrifice for principle. "Prayer" is a grandly good feature in its place; but there comes a time when "Performance" discounts it. A splendidly rounded sermon loses all its efficacy and power, when the minister who delivers it fails to practice what he preaches, and bows to wealth and influence, even at the expense of conscience and truth. All honor to the two brave school teachers.

THE SALOON.

It must eventually go, in God's good time, and that time is when the Christian voters of this great nation, backed by manly and sober non-professors (for there are many of them who respect the Bible and despise the saloon) are ready for it and ask for it, by and through the ballots which God has placed in their hands. They must use this blessing first, and not insult God by praying for rescue from the curse of the liquor traffic, when God has placed the remedy in their hands already, and they, with strange obtuseness, continue to refuse to take advantage of it. Thank God, the day has passed when, to be a Republican, a man must be an advocate of the cursed traffic which robs the workingman and mechanic and gives him no just equivalent; a traffic which the very leaders of the liquor league of East Liverpool have acknowledged to be the meanest business, if business it can be called, on God's fair earth, but as they say, "There is money in it, and they have counted the cost." God have mercy on them, for, outside of the influence of the cursed rum business, they are clever, courteous, affable gentlemen—we mean the leaders whom we have reference to; not the average saloon-keeper.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR PROGRAM.

What Will Be Done at the Convention in Washington.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The general outline of the program of the fifteenth international Christian Endeavor convention, which will be held in this city July 8-13, has been announced. It is expected that 60,000 people will attend the convention, which will open on Wednesday evening, July 8, with 22 meetings held in 23 of the largest churches of the city.

On every morning of the convention there will be held at 6:30 o'clock from 20 to 30 prayer meetings in as many churches.

The formal opening of the convention will occur on Thursday morning in the three great tents which will be pitched upon the White lot, just south of the executive mansion. There will be called tent Washington, tent Endeavor and tent Williston, and will seat about 10,000 persons each, including a chorus choir of about 1,000 voices.

On Thursday afternoon there will be held about 30 denominational rallies. The topic for consideration Thursday evening will be "Christian Citizenship." The topic for Friday is "Saved to Serve." Saturday will be "outdoor day." At 9:30 an open praise service will be held at the Washington monument. The Endeavorers will then march to the capitol, where it is hoped brief addresses may be delivered from the steps of the seat of government. The Junior Christian Endeavorers will hold an early prayer meeting on Saturday morning, and a grand rally in one of the tents on Saturday afternoon, at which a choir and orchestra composed entirely of children will lead the music. Saturday afternoon will be given up to sightseeing by most of the Endeavorers, while Saturday evening will be devoted to receptions of the state delegations.

No services will be held on Sunday morning in the tents, every one attending the regular services in the churches. On Sunday afternoon an evangelist service will be held in one of the tents, and in the other two and in many churches there will be held denominational missionary rallies.

On Monday morning the World's Christian Endeavor union, formed last year at Boston, will hold its first annual convention.

Five Outlaws Captured.

COFFEYVILLE, Kan., April 8.—Two deputy United States marshals have captured a gang of five outlaws southwest of this city after a hot fight, in which Oliver Rooks, one of the desperadoes was mortally wounded. Rooks' horse was shot from under him and he was wounded before he would give up.

CURIOUS SPORT IN CUBA.

Cruel Amusements With Ducks, Chickens and Bulls as the Victims.

Cubans of the lower and middle classes indulge their sporting blood in pastimes which would not be tolerated in a country having a Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

On fete days in the smaller towns and villages which can't support a bull fight a favorite sport is to hang a sleek fat duck by the feet by a wire or rope stretched between two trees or posts on the village plaza. The head of the duck hangs just out of reach of a man on horseback, and the "sport" consists in riding under the poor duck at full speed, grabbing it by the neck and pulling its head off. A duck's neck will stretch a great deal, and it requires a firm hold and a determined jerk to yank off the prize.

The duck frequently resists the efforts of half a dozen riders before parting with its head. The horsemen sometimes piss the duck entirely, lose their balance and roll out of the saddle into the dust. This furnishes fun for everybody except the duck.

The game may also be played on the water, in which case the line on which the duck hangs is stretched between the masts of two anchored boats, and rowboats are substituted for horses.

In another country game a chicken is buried alive in the ground to the neck, its head alone being visible. The men who enter the game are blindfolded and armed with a machete, a long knife used in cutting cane. They are walked around in confusing circles for a few minutes and then released for an attack on the chicken's head. The one who cuts off the head clean in the fewest number of strokes wins the prize.

In default of a bull fight the Cubans indulge in a bull baiting game on which money is wagered. A bull is released in an enclosure which is too small to give him much play and from which he cannot escape. Any one who wishes may enter a dog to fight the bull. The dog which succeeds in securing a neck or nose hold on the bull and brings him to the ground wins the game. From half a dozen to 15 dogs are often entered against one bull and their owners bet large sums on their candidates. Although all the dogs worry and fight the bull, and consequently all are responsible for his ultimate overthrow, yet only the dog which actually brings him to earth is the winner.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

The Expansion of Ice.

Ice never bursts from freezing. As soon as the liquid of which it is composed is frozen solid expansion ceases. The cracking or bursting of ice is brought about in this way: When water is subjected to extreme cold, ice crystals will gradually form on its surface until the same are covered with a thin coat of what appears to be wet snow. From this outer coating of ice crystals all subsequent freezing goes downward, the ice thickening according to the degree of cold. The water which is being converted into ice now begins to expand, creating a pressure upon the unfrozen water below. This pressure is both downward and outward, and in case the water under observation is in a vessel the sides and bottom of the receptacle supply the resistance.

As the freezing process continues the pressure upon the confined water and air in the interior of the bulk increases until something yields. If the vessel be stronger than the ice stratum that has formed over the surface, the layer of ice will be bent upward at the center, that being the weakest point, on account of the fact that the outer edges of the congealed mass are frozen fast to the sides of the vessel in which the experiment is being made. In this condition the center of the ice continues to rise or "bulge" until it bursts from the resistance of the water below. Could the vessel be tapped from below and the water drawn off, no amount of freezing would be sufficient to crack or bulge the ice layer on the surface.—St. Louis Republic.

The name of the "century plant" is misleading. It blooms, not once in a century, but once in 10 or 12 years, then dies.

Mexico's largest gold nugget was found at Panchas Placers, Sonora, in the spring of 1892. It weighed 14½ pounds.

MAY BE CLEVELAND.

New York World Hints at Necessity of His Nomination.

HE IS THE LOGICAL CANDIDATE.

Conditions Which May Lead to McKinley's Nomination May Force the Naming of the President—Conventions and Elections Throughout the Country.

NEW YORK, April 8.—The World today prints a double headed editorial, in which it asks whether the logic of the political situation that has led the Republican masses to support McKinley, will not compel the nomination of Cleveland by the Democrats. The paper says:

"The World does not assert that this is so. It raises the question. It invites public discussion of it.

"So far as The World is concerned in this matter it is entirely impartial, judicial and impersonal. It has no special partiality for Mr. Cleveland personally, as he will probably admit. It has nothing to take back. But the question is not of the past. It is a question of the future.

"Upon the issues of the present and future not of the past The World is just as free and sincere in suggesting that Mr. Cleveland seems to be the only logical candidate as it has been fearless and faithful in admonition and criticism whenever it has believed him to be wrong.

"It is idle and might prove very unwise to ignore the fact that there is a deep-seated and widely prevalent prejudice among our people against any third term for any president. But it is still a question whether any unfounded fear and prejudice can weigh at last against the force of events and the logic of circumstances."

The Result in Chicago.

CHICAGO, April 8.—Out of 35 aldermen the Republicans elected 20, the Democrats 15 and 2 independents were chosen. There are 34 wards in the city, but two aldermen were chosen in the Tenth, there being a vacancy in that ward. The reformers were successful with a majority of the men they were after, but they failed to secure the three or four bright particular ones they desired. There were a number of fights and several shooting affrays, nobody, however, being seriously injured. Republicans on the total vote carried the city by a majority of about 20,000.

Utah Republican Convention.

SALT LAKE CITY, April 8.—The Republican state convention has elected Frank J. Cannon, Arthur Brown, C. E. Allen, Isaac Trumbo, W. R. McCormick and Thomas Kearnes as delegates to the St. Louis convention. The platform is confined almost entirely to declarations for protection and bimetalism.

McKinley Won in Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, April 8.—It develops that McKinley easily received a majority of the delegates chosen in the city and county primaries. The McKinley men claim 123 delegates to 72 for Bradley and the Bradley men, while not conceding these figures, admit McKinley's majority.

Many Women Voted.

KANSAS CITY, April 8.—The municipal election in Kansas City, Kan., progressed very quietly. An interesting feature of the battle was the part taken by the women. There were 2,100 women registered and nearly 2,000 of them voted.

Women Voted in Colorado.

DENVER, April 8.—Elections were held in all the cities and towns in the state, except Denver. Local issues only were at stake. The women were as a rule well represented at the polls and in many instances had places on the tickets.

A Woman Elected Mayor.

CIMMARON, Kan., April 8.—The women were victorious in the election here, Mrs. C. A. Curtis being elected mayor by a small majority over Dr. Lawrence. The election board is composed wholly of women, who were out in full force.

Named McKinley Delegates.

COLUMBIA, S. C., April 8.—The convention of the Webster faction of the Republican party was overwhelmingly for McKinley, and the four delegates-at-large were instructed to vote for him first, last and all the time.

The A. P. A. Man Won.

KANSAS CITY, April 8.—Returns give the Republican ticket, headed by Jones, A. P. A. and Republican, a majority of 50 over Kauff, Independent Democrat. The remainder of the candidates are too mixed to estimate.

Tennessee Counties For McKinley.

NASHVILLE, April 8.—Republican conventions to select delegates to state and congressional district conventions were held in 16 counties. All endorsed McKinley and elected McKinley delegates.

Number of Voters Arrested.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., April 8.—The city jail here is filled with citizens of Victor, who were arrested for alleged false registration. There are 22 prisoners here.

Allen Don't Want to Be President.

OMAHA, April 8.—Senator W. V. Allen has addressed a letter to Governor Holcomb declining to be a candidate on the Populist ticket for presidential honors.

Democrats Carried the Day.

ST. LOUIS, April 8.—In the elections in many of the municipalities throughout Missouri the Democrats elected the whole or greater part of their tickets.

Republicans Carry Milwaukee.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 8.—There seems no doubt that the entire Republican ticket is elected by a large plurality.

Colorado Miners Strike.

DENVER, April 8.—About 500 miners in the employ of the United Coal company have struck for an increase of about 15 per cent in wages.

A BLOODLESS WAR.

Rebels and Government Troops Inactive in Nicaragua.

LA LIBERTAD, Salvador, April 8.—Since the advices of March 18 and March 30, given in these dispatches, there have been no battles between the forces of President Zelaya and the Leonist rebels in Nicaragua.

The operations of the war seem to have come practically to a standstill. About 1,000 Honduran troops under the command of the vice president of Honduras, C. Bonilla, occupy Pueblo in the fertile valley of the Elviejo in Nicaragua and with free routes homeward. They are opposed by about an equal number of the Nicaraguan rebels under General Ortez at Chinandega. President Zelaya's troops on the other hand occupy Nagarote and Mateare, near the western shore of Lake Managua. They are apparently few in number or they would have made a demonstration before this in favor of their Honduran allies, who entered Nicaraguan north of Leon, the rebel capital, nearly a month ago ready to co-operate with Zelaya to take that place.

It is reported that General Bocas' insurgent troops under Generals Chivarria, Heredero and Larias, near Nagarote, are taking advantage of the long inactivity of Zelaya's troops at Nagarote and are flanking their position, threatening Managua, the capital.

PASSED BY THE SENATE.

Postoffice Appropriation Bill Goes Through After Hot Debate.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The post-office appropriation has passed the senate. The discussion on the Wolcott amendment for the consolidation of smaller offices with larger ones again took the form of a debate upon the merits of civil service reform, and was participated in by Messrs. Vilas, Wolcott, Allen and Hill, Hoar, Gorman, Stewart and others.

There were some rather spirited dialogues between Messrs. Vilas and Allen and between Messrs. Wolcott and Hill. Mr. Wolcott criticised Secretary Smith for his participation in Georgia campaign and was replied to by Mr. Hill. The amendment was defeated by a decisive vote, receiving only seven votes in its support.

Decided Against Broker Chapman.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The court of appeals in the District of Columbia has affirmed the decision of Judge Cole of the District supreme court in the case of Elverson R. Chapman. The New York broker, sentenced for refusing to answer questions put by the senate sugar investigation committee. Chapman was convicted by the lower court, and sentenced to pay a fine of $100 and serve one month in jail. His counsel will take an appeal to the United States supreme court.

Discussed the Metric System.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The house spent the day debating a bill to fix the standard of weights and measures by the adoption of the metric system on and after July 1, 1898, and a proposition that the government share with the District of Columbia the expense of creating and maintaining a public library in the city of Washington. The latter was defeated, and the fate of the metric system bill still hangs in the balance.

Agricultural Bill Agreed on.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The conferees of the two houses of congress have reached an agreement on the agricultural appropriation bill, and the report was presented to the senate. The bill as agreed upon appropriates $3,302,792, or about $1,000 less than last session's bill carried.

Set For Trial May 18.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The long delayed trial of the contest over the mysterious will of the late Judge Holt, whose finding in the register of wills of office last August created a sensation, has been set for May 18 next before Judge Bradley of the circuit court.

TERRORIZED BY DEER

A MOB OF THEM CAPTURE A HOUSE AND SMASH THINGS.

A Sportsman's Account of the Annoyance Caused by Canadian Game Laws—If You Want Peace While Hunting in Canada Provide a Stuffed Gray Wolf.

"But I was going to tell you about the Canadian game laws being responsible for a nuisance," said the old sportsman. "The deer have the laws down fine, and though you might roam for days without seeing a sign of one of them in the shooting season they are as numerous and intrusive as mosquitoes at other times. The deer, you know, is a species of goat and will develop all a goat's toughness if he gets the idea that you aren't touch him. No small boy could be more insolent than the deer under those circumstances.

"After we finished our dinner the first evening at the cabin on Capen island last August we sat reading and smoking. A deer put his head in the door and ba-a-a-ed at us and winked his eyes and shook his tail in an eager way, as if he was asking for something.

"What does he want?" we asked the guide.

"Oh, anything—old clothes or boots, a rubber shoe, tomato cans, anything like that for a change of diet."

"We gave him a pair of stockings and a chromo of Mary Anderson. He ate them and bounded away looking as pleased as if his uncle had left him a legacy. That made us laugh, and we hoped he would come back and let us have some more fun with him.

"He did come back before daylight next morning and brought six other deer with him. They ate up two white shirts and some underclothes that were hanging on the line behind the house and roused us up by knocking on the door with their horns. When the guide opened the door, the leading buck butted him into a corner. The other deer crowd ed in, and they took possession of the place. They upset the lamp, and as many as could get at it drank the kerosene. It made them cough, but didn't abate their curiosity in the least. They all put their noses in the stove and sniffed the ashes. That set them sneezing. The big buck, by turning his horns sideways, got his head into the biscuit barrel. He ate till he was rounded out like a football and then tried to go out to get a drink. But he had forgotten the combination, and the barrel staid right where it was. He gave a loud 'ba-a-a!' and that frightened him worse than anything, for his voice was baritone, and the barrel made it sound like double bass. Then he started in to back out slowly, shaking his head and keeping it low.

"I and Capen had kept quiet in our bunks. We knew the Canadian law, and we didn't want any trouble with the deer. But they had no idea of leaving us in peace. Two of them caught hold of the blanket that was covering Capen and began to devour it.

"Leggo!" he shouted. But it was no use. They knew the ropes and were not going to be bluffed.

Goes to Church Once a Year.

Of all Catholic sovereigns King Leopold of Belgium is assuredly the least devout. He goes to church and attends divine service only once a year—that is, on his namesday. A special service is performed in honor of the event at the ancient cathedral of Ste. Gudule, which everybody belonging to the male sex attends in full uniform. The king is received in grand ecclesiastical state by the prelates of the kingdom and by the clergy of the basilica at the main entrance, and marches in procession up the central aisle under a magnificent canopy to his seat within the chancel rails. He carries in his hand a gorgeously bound mass book, which he peruses with an appearance of devotion throughout the ceremony, and which on his return to the palace at Laeken is locked up once more out of sight until the recurrence of St. Leopold's day 12 months later.—St. Paul Dispatch.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., WEDNESDAY, APRIL 8

For President,
WILLIAM MCKINLEY,
OF OHIO.

NOBLE WOMEN.
The Christian women of East Liverpool are heroines, in the truest sense of the word. They battled, with energy and intelligence, against the common foe in the late election, and God will honor them in time and in eternity.

WHY MCKINLEY LEADS.

The following, from the New York Tribune, hits the nail on the head fairly and squarely, and drives it home: "If we rightly interpret public opinion, McKinley is the leading candidate of the Republican masses because his name stands first for what they want for their own material interests—a wholesale change in the tariff—and second for what they want from a more sentimental point of view, the privilege of having something to say themselves in the selection of rulers, without being dictated to by self-constituted 'bosses.'"

REWARD OF MERIT.

Frank Leslie Trump, the efficient foreman of the NEWS REVIEW composing room, has been promoted to the berth of city editor of this paper, and will have control of the front office force until Editor Morris is restored to his wonted health and strength. Mr. Trump has been associated with Messrs. Palmer & Morris for the past five years, and has demonstrated the fact that he is skillful, reliable and trustworthy. We take deep pleasure in commending him to the good graces of the patrons of the NEWS REVIEW and the citizens of East Liverpool.

STAY AT HOMES.

The women who failed to exercise their franchise in defense of God's holy word, must feel sorry that they can lay no claim to a part in the glorious victory. We know that some true women object to going to the polling places, on account of the rough element in the habit of assembling there; but these ladies must remember that, through the refining influence of their presence the polling places may be made just as quiet and orderly as in a well-conducted dry goods establishment. Exercise your franchise, good and true women of East Liverpool, and God will bless your home and family.

HONOR IS DUE.

Men and women of East Liverpool, ye who love the Bible and who advocate the lessons taught therein, don't fail to return thanks to Miss Little and the late Miss Jessop. By and through their grand stand for the inspired word of God, it was made possible for the Right to win. They are splendid samples of the stuff of which the martyrs were formed in the olden days. All honor to them for their sacrifice for principle. "Prayer" is a grandly good feature in its place; but there comes a time when "Performance" discounts it. A splendidly rounded sermon loses all its efficacy and power, when the minister who delivers it fails to practice what he preaches, and bows to wealth and influence, even at the expense of conscience and truth. All honor to the two brave school teachers.

THE SALOON.

It must eventually go, in God's good time, and that time is when the Christian voters of this great nation, backed by manly and sober non-prophets (for there are many of them who respect the Bible and despise the saloon) are ready for it and ask for it, by and through the ballots which God has placed in their hands. They must use this blessing first, and not insult God by praying for rescue from the curse of the liquor traffic, when God has placed the remedy in their hands already, and they, with strange obtuseness, continue to refuse to take advantage of it. Thank God, the day has passed when, to be a Republican, a man must be an advocate of the cursed traffic which robs the workingman and mechanic and gives him no just equivalent; a traffic which the very leaders of the liquor league of East Liverpool have acknowledged is the meanest business, if

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR PROGRAM.

What Will Be Done at the Convention in Washington.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The general outline of the program of the fifteenth international Christian Endeavor convention, which will be held in this city July 8-13, has been announced. It is expected that 60,000 people will attend the convention, which will open on Wednesday evening, July 8, with 22 meetings held in 22 of the largest churches of the city.

On every morning of the convention there will be held at 6:30 o'clock from 20 to 30 prayer meeting in as many churches.

The formal opening of the convention will occur on Thursday morning in the three great tents which will be pitched upon the White lot, just south of the executive mansion. These will be called tent Washington, tent Endeavor and tent Williston, and will seat about 10,000 persons each, including a chorus of about 1,000 voices.

On Thursday afternoon there will be held about 30 denominational rallies. The topic for consideration Thursday evening will be "Christian Citizenship." The topic for Friday is "Saved to Serve."

Saturday will be "outdoor day." At 9:30 an open praise service will be held at the Washington monument. The Endeavorers will then march to the capitol, where it is hoped brief addresses may be delivered from the steps of the seat of government. The Junior Christian Endeavorers will hold an early prayer meeting on Saturday morning and a grand rally in one of the tents on Saturday afternoon, at which a choir and orchestra composed entirely of children will lead the music. Saturday afternoon will be given up to sightseeing by most of the Endeavorers, while Saturday evening will be devoted to receptions of the state delegations.

No services will be held on Sunday morning in the tents, every one attending the regular services in the churches. On Sunday afternoon an evangelist service will be held in one of the tents, and in the other two and in many churches there will be held denominational missionary rallies.

On Monday morning the World's Christian Endeavor union, formed last year at Boston, will hold its first annual convention.

Five Outlaws Captured.

COFFEYVILLE, Kan., April 8.—Two deputy United States marshals have captured a gang of five outlaws southwest of this city after a hot fight, in which Oliver Rooks, one of the desperadoes was mortally wounded. Rooks' horse was shot from under him and he was wounded before he would give up.

CURIOUS SPORT IN CUBA.

Cruel Amusements With Ducks, Chickens and Bulls as the Victims.

Cubans of the lower and middle classes indulge their sporting blood in pastimes which would not be tolerated in a country having a Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

On fete days in the smaller towns and villages which can't support a bull fight a favorite sport is to hang a sleek fat duck by the feet by a wire or rope stretched between two trees or posts on the village plaza. The head of the duck hangs just out of reach of a man on horseback, and the "sport" consists in riding under the poor duck at full speed, grabbing it by the neck and pulling its head off. A duck's neck will stretch a great deal, and it requires a firm hold and a determined jerk to yank off the prize.

The duck frequently resists the efforts of half a dozen riders before parting with its head. The horsemen sometimes miss the duck entirely, lose their balance and roll out of the saddle into the dust. This furnishes fun for everybody except the duck.

The game may also be played on the water, in which case the line on which the duck hangs is stretched between the masts of two anchored boats, and rowboats are substituted for horses.

In another country game a chicken is buried alive in the ground to the neck, its head alone being visible. The men who enter the game are blindfolded and armed with a machete, a long knife used in cutting cane. They are walked around in confusing circles for a few minutes and then released for an attack on the chicken's head. The one who cuts off the head clean in the fewest number of strokes wins the prize.

In default of a bull fight the Cubans indulge in a bull baiting game on which money is wagered. A bull is released in an enclosure which is too small to give him much play and from which he cannot escape. Any one who wishes may enter a dog to fight the bull. The dog which succeeds in securing a neck or nose hold on the bull and brings him to the ground wins the game. From half a dozen to 15 dogs are often entered against one bull and their owners bet large sums on their candidates. Although all the dogs worry and fight the bull, and consequently all are responsible for his ultimate overthrow, yet only the dog which actually brings him to earth is the winner.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

The Expansion of Ice.

Ice never bursts from freezing. As soon as the liquid of which it is composed is frozen solid expansion ceases. The cracking or bursting of ice is brought about in this way: When water is subjected to extreme cold, ice crystals will gradually form on its surface until the same are covered with a thin coat of what appears to be wet snow. From this outer coating of ice crystals all subsequent freezing goes downward, the ice thickening according to the degree of cold. The water which is being converted into ice now begins to expand, creating a pressure upon the unfrozen water below. This pressure is both downward and outward, and in case the water under observation is in a vessel the sides and bottom of the receptacle supply the resistance.

As the freezing process continues the pressure upon the confined water and air in the interior of the bulk increases until something yields. If the vessel be stronger than the ice stratum that has formed over the surface, the layer of ice will be bent upward at the center, that being the weakest point, on account of the fact that the outer edges of the congealed mass are frozen fast to the sides of the vessel in which the experiment is being made. In this condition the center of the ice continues to rise or "bulge" until it bursts from the resistance of the water below. Could the vessel be tapped from below and the water drawn off, no amount of freezing would be sufficient to crack or bulge the ice layer on the surface.—St. Louis Republic.

The name of the "century plant" is misleading. It blooms, not once in a century, but once in 10 or 12 years, then dies.

MAY BE CLEVELAND.

New York World Hints at Necessity of His Nomination.

HE IS THE LOGICAL CANDIDATE.

Conditions Which May Lead to McKinley's Nomination May Force the Naming of the President—Conventions and Elections Throughout the Country.

NEW YORK, April 8.—The World today prints a double headed editorial, in which it asks whether the logic of the political situation that has led the Republican masses to support McKinley, will not compel the nomination of Cleveland by the Democrats. The paper says:

"The World does not assert that this is so. It raises the question. It invites public discussion of it.

"So far as The World is concerned in this matter it is entirely impartial, judicial and impersonal. It has no special partiality for Mr. Cleveland personally, as he will probably admit. It has nothing to take back. But the question is not of the past. It is a question of the future.

"Upon the issues of the present and future not of the past The World is just as free and sincere in suggesting that Mr. Cleveland seems to be the only logical candidate as it has been fearless and faithful in admonition and criticism whenever it has believed him to be wrong.

"It is idle and might prove very unwise to ignore the fact that there is a deep-seated and widely prevalent prejudice among our people against any third term for any president. But it is still a question whether any unfounded fear and prejudice can weigh at last against the force of events and the logic of circumstances."

The Result in Chicago.

CHICAGO, April 8.—Out of 35 aldermen the Republicans elected 20, the Democrats 15 and 2 independents were chosen. There are 34 wards in the city, but two aldermen were chosen in the Tenth, there being a vacancy in that ward. The reformers were successful with a majority of the men they were after, but they failed to secure the three or four bright particular ones they desired. There were a number of fights and several shooting affrays, nobody, however, being seriously injured. Republicans on the total vote carried the city by a majority of about 20,000.

Utah Republican Convention.

SALT LAKE CITY, April 8.—The Republican state convention has elected Frank J. Cannon, Arthur Brown, C. E. Allen, Isaac Trumbo, W. R. McCormick and Thomas Kearnes as delegates to the St. Louis convention. The platform is confined almost entirely to declarations for protection and bimetallism.

McKinley Won in Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, April 8.—It develops that McKinley easily received a majority of the delegates chosen in the city and county primaries. The McKinley men claim 128 delegates to 73 for Bradley and the Bradley men, while not conceding these figures, admit McKinley's majority.

Many Women Voted.

KANSAS CITY, April 8.—The municipal election in Kansas City, Kan., progressed very quietly. An interesting feature of the battle was the part taken by the women. There were 2,100 women registered and nearly 2,000 of them voted.

Women Voted in Colorado.

DENVER, April 8.—Elections were held in all the cities and towns in the state, except Denver. Local issues only were at stake. The women were as a rule well represented at the polls and in many instances had places on the tickets.

A Woman Elected Mayor.

CIMMARON, Kan., April 8.—The women were victorious in the election here, Mrs. C. A. Curtis being elected mayor by a small majority over Dr. Lawrence. The election board is composed wholly of women, who were out in full force.

Named McKinley Delegates.

COLUMBIA, S. C., April 8.—The composition of the Webster faction of the Republican party was overwhelmingly for McKinley, and the four delegates-at-large were instructed to vote for him first, last and all the time.

The A. P. A. Man Won.

KANSAS CITY, April 8.—Returns give the Republican ticket, headed by Jones, A. P. A. and Republican, a majority of 500 over Kumpf, Independent Democrat. The remainder of the candidates are too mixed to estimate.

Tennessee Counties For McKinley.

NASHVILLE, April 8.—Republican conventions to select delegates to state and congressional district conventions were held in 16 counties. All endorsed McKinley and elected McKinley delegates.

Number of Voters Arrested.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., April 8.—The city jail here is filled with citizens of Victor, who were arrested for alleged false registration. There are 22 prisoners here.

Allen Don't Want to Be President.

OMAHA, April 8.—Senator W. V. Allen has addressed a letter to Governor Holcomb declining to be a candidate on the Populist ticket for presidential honors.

Democrats Carried the Day.

ST. LOUIS, April 8.—In the elections in many of the municipalities throughout Missouri the Democrats elected the whole or greater part of their tickets.

Republicans Carry Milwaukee.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 8.—There seems no doubt that the entire Republican ticket is elected by a large plurality.

Colorado Miners Strike.

DENVER, April 8.—About 500 miners in the employ of the United Coal company have struck for an increase of about 15 per cent in wages.

A BLOODLESS WAR.

Rebels and Government Troops Inactive in Nicaragua.

LA LIBERTAD, Salvador, April 8.—Since the advices of March 18 and March 30, given in these dispatches, there have been no battles between the forces of President Zelaya and the Leonist rebels in Nicaragua.

The operations of the war seem to have come practically to a standstill. About 1,000 Honduras troops under the command of the vice president of Honduras, C. Bonilla, occupy Pueblo in the fertile valley of the Elviejo in Nicaragua and with free routes homeward. They are opposed by about an equal number of the Nicaraguan rebels under General Ortiz at Chinandega. President Zelaya's troops on the other hand occupy Nagarote and Mateare, near the western shore of Lake Managua. They are apparently few in number or they would have made a demonstration before this in favor of their Honduran allies, who entered Nicaraguan north of Leon, the rebel capital, nearly a month ago ready to co-operate with Zelaya to take that place.

It is reported that General Bocas' insurgent troops under Generals Chivarria, Herodoro and Larías, near Nagarote, are taking advantage of the long inactivity of Zelaya's troops at Nagarote and are flanking their position, threatening Managua, the capital.

PASSED BY THE SENATE.

Postoffice Appropriation Bill Goes Through After Hot Debate.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The postoffice appropriation has passed the senate. The discussion on the Wolcott amendment for the consolidation of smaller offices with larger ones again took the form of a debate upon the merits of civil service reform, and was participated in by Messrs. Vilas, Wolcott, Allen and Hill, Hoar, Gorman, Stewart and others.

There were some rather spirited dialogues between Messrs. Vilas and Allen and between Messrs. Wolcott and Hill. Mr. Wolcott criticised Secretary Smith for his participation in Georgia campaign and was replied to by Mr. Hill. The amendment was defeated by a decisive vote, receiving only seven votes in its support.

Decided Against Broker Chapman.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The court of appeals in the District of Columbia has affirmed the decision of Judge Cole of the District supreme court in the case of Elverson R. Chapman, the New York broker, sentenced for refusing to answer questions put by the senate sugar investigation committee. Chapman was convicted by the lower court, and sentenced to pay a fine of $100 and serve one month in jail. His counsel will take an appeal to the United States supreme court.

Discussed the Metric System.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The house spent the day debating a bill to fix the standard of weights and measures by the adoption of the metric system on and after July 1, 1898, and a proposition that the government share with the District of Columbia the expense of creating and maintaining a public library in the city of Washington. The latter was defeated, and the fate of the metric system bill still hangs in the balance.

Agricultural Bill Agreed on.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The conferees of the two houses of congress have reached an agreement on the agricultural appropriation bill, and the report was presented to the senate. The bill as agreed upon appropriates $3,302,792, or about $1,000 less than last session's bill carried.

Set For Trial May 18.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The long delayed trial of the contest over the mysterious will of the late Judge Holt, whose finding in the register of wills of office last August created a sensation, has been set for May 18 next before Judge Bradley of the circuit court.

TERRORIZED BY DEER

A MOB OF THEM CAPTURE A HOUSE AND SMASH THINGS.

A Sportsman's Account of the Annoyance Caused by Canadian Game Laws—If You Want Peace While Hunting in Canada Provide a Stuffed Gray Wolf.

"But I was going to tell you about the Canadian game laws being responsible for a nuisance," said the old sportsman. "The deer have the laws down fine, and though you might roam for days without seeing a sign of one of them in the shooting season they are as numerous and intrusive as mosquitoes at other times. The deer, you know, is a species of goat and will develop all a goat's toughness if he gets the idea that you aren't touch him. No small boy could be more insolent than the deer under those circumstances.

"After we finished our dinner the first evening at the cabin on Capen island last August we sat reading and smoking. A deer put his head in the door and ba-a-a-ed at us and winked his eyes and shook his tail in an eager way, as if he was asking for something.

"What does he want?" we asked the guide.

"Oh, anything—old clothes or boots, a rubber shoe, tomato cans, anything like that for a change of diet."

"We gave him a pair of stockings and a chromo of Mary Anderson. He ate them and bounded away looking as pleased as if his uncle had left him a legacy. That made us laugh, and we hoped he would come back and let us have some more fun with him.

"He did come back before daylight next morning and brought six other deer with him. They ate up two white shirts and some underclothes that were hanging on the line behind the house and roused us up by knocking on the door with their horns. When the guide opened the door, the leading buck butted him into a corner. The other deer crowded in, and they took possession of the place. They upset the lamp, and as many as could get at it drank the kerosene. It made them cough, but didn't abate their curiosity in the least. They all put their noses in the stove and sniffed the ashes. That set them sneezing. The big buck, by turning his horns sideways, got his head into the biscuit barrel. He ate till he was rounded out like a football and then tried to go out to get a drink. But he had forgotten the combination, and the barrel staid right where it was. He gave a loud 'ba-a-a!' and that frightened him worse than anything, for his voice was baritone, and the barrel made it sound like double bass. Then he started in to back out slowly, shaking his head and keeping it low.

"I and Capen had kept quiet in our bunks. We knew the Canadian law, and we didn't want any trouble with the deer. But they had no idea of leaving us in peace. Two of them caught hold of the blanket that was covering Capen and began to devour it.

"Leggo!" he shouted. But it was no use. They knew the ropes and were not going to be bluffed.

"Jumping mackerel!" shouted Capen, getting mad. "I won't stand this any longer. Law or no law, these hoodlums have got to get out of my house."

"He started to descend from his berth when a wicked looking doe made a jump from the other end of the room and helped him back again. I don't know what would have become of us if it had not been for the buck with the barrel. In backing out he tripped over a chair and fell down. The barrel jarred him, and he became panic stricken. He gave a terrific 'ba-a-a!' and hoisting the barrel up in the air began to charge about blindly. He fell down, turned somersaults, butted the other deer and tried to knock out the end of the cabin. The others were so surprised and frightened at his strange appearance and antics that they stood still and stared open mouthed till two or three of them were knocked galley west. These got up and away, full lickity smash, and the others woke up and slid the whole earth from under themselves at one jump.

"The three of us got up and jumped on the buck. We carried him outside and then let him go, and the way he smashed around through the landscape was a caution. We could trail him by the biscuits. He broke the bottom out of the barrel after awhile, but I guess he's wearing the rest of it yet.

"Of course we were in a great state of alarm for fear the deer would come back, but the guide said:

"That's all right. I'll fix those fellows."

"Luckily we had a fine gray wolf skin. This the guide stuffed and planted in a lifelike attitude on the shore where the deer came from the mainland. That afternoon the deer that turned our cabin inside out returned with 25 others. They were all on the broad smile, thinking of the picnic they were going to have till they caught sight of the stuffed wolf. That stopped them as dead as though they had run against a brick wall. They wheeled quick as a flash, and the way they put was a caution.

"After that we had no more trouble, and my advice to men who are going for sport into the wilds of Canada is that they take a stuffed gray wolf if they want to have peace and comfort."

Goes to Church Once a Year.

Of all Catholic sovereigns King Leopold of Belgium is assuredly the least devout. He goes to church and attends divine service only once a year—that is, on his namesday. A special service is performed in honor of the event at the ancient cathedral of Ste. Gudule, which everybody belonging to the male sex attends in full uniform. The king is received in grand ecclesiastical state by the prelates of the kingdom and by the clergy of the basilica at the main entrance, and marches in procession up the central aisle under a magnificent canopy to his seat within the chancel rails. He carries in his hand a gorgeously bound mass book, which he peruses with an appearance of devotion throughout the ceremony, and which on his return to the palace at Laeken is locked up once more out of sight until the recurrence of St. Leopold's day 12 months later.—St. Paul Dispatch.

TURKS' NEW OUTRAGE

We Won't Stand Expulsion of Our Missionaries.

THE IMPRISONMENT OF KNAPP.

This Matter Introduces No New Phase and Determined Action Will Be Taken.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The officials at the state department are fully aware of the condition of the missionaries in Turkey and of the developments in the case of Missionary Knapp, who is reported by cable to be in confinement at Diabekir, but they refuse to discuss the matter in any phase. However, it is apparent that they do not feel under any great degree of apprehension as to serious trouble in Turkey, and as in addition to their private cable advices from Charge Riddle they have the benefit of the presence and advice of United States Minister Terrell.

It is quite certain that no orders have gone forward to Admiral Selbridge to gather his fleet in the gulf of Iskanderun, to make any sort of a demonstration, and although he has a large measure of discretion and authority in the movements of his ships, it is unlikely he would go so far as to make a naval demonstration without the sanction of the navy department.

No far as the case of Missionary Knapp is concerned it presents no features of novelty and the only point involved on its face, is the old question of extra territorial jurisdiction by our legation in Turkey. The state department has insisted upon the exercise of this right steadfastly and the correspondence sent to the present congress relative to the Armenian troubles show that although the Turkish government has always had interposed obstacles to the exercise of this right, it has generally conceded the point. It is presumed that this will be outcome in the case of Mr. Knapp.

The more serious aspect of the matter is brought to light by the renewal of the report that emanated from Constantinople some weeks ago, to the effect that there is to be a general expulsion of all foreign missionaries from Turkish Armenia and not withstanding the reference to this subject, it is believed there is some foundation for the report.

Probably the reserve shown by the department in its treatment of this matter is to be accounted for by a desire on its part to avoid giving offence to another great power (Russia) by making public its belief that this power is really responsible for the attempt to expel the missionaries, but that is the fact, and the story has come to Washington with every appearance of verity that the American and other foreign missionaries are to be driven out from Armenia only to make room for a church (Russian Greek church) that they do not represent. However, this not to be brought about without the most earnest resistance upon the part of our government.

The French government has a treaty with Turkey explicitly conferring the right of their missionaries to reside and work in Turkey, and as the United States has a treaty with Turkey included the usual favored nation clause, the contention of our government is that we have as good a right as the French to maintain our missionaries in that country, and upon that point the issue will be made if it should finally come to the promulgation of the trade of expulsion.

RED CROSS UNMOLESTED.

Clara Barton Reports the Work Progressing Nicely.

NEW YORK, April 8.—The following cablegram has been received by Spencer Taggart from Miss Clara Barton, president of the Red Cross society, who is in charge of the relief work in Armenia: "Our corps of physicians and supplies left Beirut April 3 and will reach Marash the 10th. Scourge of typhoid and other diseases from starvation and exposure unabated. Red Cross reports just received from our expedition, which are meeting with splendid success. No obstructions nor Turkish supervision as has been wrongly reported. Every facility offered. Welcomed everywhere. One party working between Marash, Zeitoun, Malatia and Harpoot. The other between Corfu, Diarbokir and Harpoot. Visiting towns and villages enroute. Giving assistance where most needed."

AMERICANS AGAIN VICTORIOUS.

They Win Most of the Events at the Olympic Games.

ATHENS, April 8.—At the Olympic games the American contestants again covered themselves with honor. Thomas P. Curtis of the Boston team won the heat in which he competed for the hurdle race. His time was 18 seconds. An Englishman, Goulding, won the other heat in 18 3/4 seconds.

Ellery H. Clark of the Boston team won the broad jump, with 6 metres 34 centimetres. Robert Garrett, captain of the Princeton team, was second, with 6 metres. James B. Connolly of Boston was third, with 5 metres 84 centimetres.

Thomas E. Burke of the Boston team won the third heat of 400 metres, running time in 54 1/5 seconds. H. B. Jamieson of Princeton was second.

Robert Garrett of Princeton won the shot put with 11 metres 22 centimetres. Flack, an Australian, won the first heat of the kilometre run in 4m. 33s. Arthur Blake of the Boston team was second.

Bills were passed in the senate as follows:

Placing the burden of proof on the state in the trial of members of the militia for causing death or injury to persons in riotous assemblages, to show that unnecessary or improper means were used.

Fixing 30 days before the making of a general assignment as the time in which property transferred to give preference to any creditor shall be deemed fraudulent.

Bills were passed in the house as follows:

Making appropriations for 1897.

Senate joint resolution to adjourn April 27.

Providing that where two railroads cross and receive or let off passengers, a suitable waiting room shall be erected.

Making it a misdemeanor to treat another to intoxicants.

A WOMAN ASSAULTS JACKSON.

He Smiled at Her When Leaving Court. The Trial Postponed.

NEWPORT, Ky., April 8.—The trial of Scott Jackson, the alleged murderer of Pearl Bryan, before Judge Helm has been continued until April 21.

Grounds set forth in the application for a postponement were: First, illness in his family, which had prevented him giving proper attention to the case, and second, inability to secure depositions of witnesses residing at a distance.

He stated that the object of these depositions was to break down the testimony of the witness George H. Jackson, relied on by the prosecution, and to show the character of the witness Wood, whom he declares to be unworthy of belief.

As Jackson was leaving the courtroom he passed in front of a woman sitting in the front row of seats. He looked down at her smiling, when the woman suddenly delivered a vicious kick at the prisoner, and as he passed her, she was heard to say: "I would have killed him if I could. If I had had a pistol I would have shot him."

The woman was Mrs. McCann of Falmouth, Ky. She also gave him a vicious punch in the stomach with her fist. She remarked afterward: "It's a shame to put off his trial; he ought to be hanged right away," and she added: "I'd like to help hang him myself."

She said she had never seen him before. It is said Mrs. McCann resembles the murdered girl Pearl Bryan.

Decided Against the Liberals.

DAYTON, O., April 8.—A case between the radical and liberal branches of the United Brethren church in Tulare county, Cal., has been decided in favor of the former. Property worth only $500 is involved. The case was heard two years ago and argued last October. The liberals, who hold the seminary and publishing here, will carry the case to the supreme court.

Two Failures in Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, April 8.—Michael P. Scully, contractor, liabilities, $42,000; assets, $34,000, and George K. Weisenberger, galvanized iron manufacturer, liabilities and assets each $30,000, have assigned.

SPAIN NOT ALARMED.

Cuban Resolutions Considered a Blank Cartridge.

DON'T EXPECT CLEVELAND TO ACT.

A Friendly Reply Will Be Made If the United States Should Ask as to Spain's Intentions Regarding Cuba—Wild Talk by Some Newspapers.

LONDON, April 8.—The Times has a dispatch from Madrid which says: "The Cuban resolutions of the United States congress have been received here with marked calmness and almost indifference, strongly contrasting with the peculiar excitement which followed the passage of the previous resolutions. This can be accounted for in two ways:

"Firstly, the result of the voting was fully anticipated, and secondly, there is a strong impression that President Cleveland will take no immediate action."

A dispatch to The Standard from Madrid says: "The papers here of every shade of opinion rival each other in censuring the attitude of the United States congress and in declaring that Spain will not tolerate interference, not even friendly mediation. The government and its supporters alone are cool amidst the popular excitement."

"A sensation has been caused by The Epoca stating that a friendly reply would certainly be made if the United States should ask as to Spain's intention with regard to Cuba."

"After the cabinet council, Senor Canovas del Castillo, the premier, stated that all the official and private Washington advices induced the government to believe that President Cleveland would not act on the resolutions, and that therefore the government would maintain an expectant attitude."

A SECRET AGENT IN CUBA.

An Intimation That the President Is Quietly Investigating For Himself.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Representative McCready of Kentucky, who was chairman of the foreign affairs committee of the house in the Fifty-second and Fifty-third congresses, speaking as to the probable action of the president on the Cuban resolutions, said:

"Mr. Cleveland, throughout his public career, has shown a disposition to investigate for himself all important public questions. While I have no doubt that he will show great respect for the expression of the senate and house of representative in favor of the recognition of the Cuban insurgents as belligerents, after all that was simply an expression—it is true by an overwhelming majority of the representatives of the people, but action and responsibility are for him. I have no doubt that he has put himself in a position to secure accurate information as to the true conditions of affairs. He has ample means at his disposal for such an investigation, and that such an investigation will be made, or is now in progress, I entertain no sort of doubt. Upon its result, taken in connection with the expressed opinion of congress, he will act."

Asked as to whether he believed that Mr. Cleveland had sent an agent to Cuba, Mr. McCready declined to commit himself. When shown a report to this effect, he said: "That may be simply a guess; no authority is given, and such a mission would, of course, be secret."

THE CRISP-SMITH DEBATE.

Third of the Series of Speeches Are Made in Georgia.

NEWMAN, Ga., April 8.—The third of the joint financial discussions between Secretary Smith and ex-Speaker Crisp was listened to here by an audience of about 4,000 people, chiefly farmers from the surrounding country.

Ex-Speaker Crisp had the opening. In the outset he replied to the charge that he had not always been for silver. He said that when he was elected speaker he was bitterly opposed by the east on account of his financial views. He said that the Massachusetts Democrats had voted against his election. His vote prevented, he said, the tabling of a free coinage bill. In the last congress, he said, he appointed a silver committee and one member changed his views. He was not responsible for that. Men often change their views. With this personal explanation Mr. Crisp discussed the silver question, from the same standpoint as given in his other speeches in these debates.

The secretary of the interior in opening said: "Judge Crisp has sought to create the impression that I am opposed to the use of both gold and silver. I am in favor of that system which will give us the largest use of both. I deny that unlimited silver coinage will give us bimetalism."

He took up the quotation which Mr. Crisp had read from his Atlanta speech, delivered in 1894. "If the gentleman had read you that speech," he said, "you would have seen that I spoke of the single gold standard in the common application of the word in the way you understand it—when only gold is used as money."

He was not then and was not now in favor of such a plan, and his speech showed it then. One reference in his remarks to President Cleveland awakened a demonstration which lasted half a minute.

Booth-Tucker Will Be Naturalized.

NEW YORK, April 8.—Frederick St. George de Latour Booth-Tucker, the new commander of the Salvation Army in this country, made the first step towards becoming an American citizen when he made the declaration of intention in the naturalization bureau of the supreme court of this country. A big rally and reception was given the Booth-Tuckers last night.

The cat at the pump house went blind sometime ago and the boys chloroformed it to put it out of its misery. Some poetry was written and the cat was buried with all the respect that could be shown.

Edward Green, of Avondale street, is indignant. A few days ago some person stole a young pug dog from him, and as he is a member of the Kennel club, the members have been advised to keep a lookout for the missing dog.

T. S. McCready, who, accompanied by his family, left this place about two weeks ago to locate in Warrensburg, Mo., writes to friends in this city, stating that the family arrived at their new home, but that Mrs. McCready has been unwell as the result of the long trip.

Counterfeit money is still in evidence in this community. The other day a Sixth street merchant had a dime of the "queer" passed upon him. Apparently the efforts of the secret service department to detect these flagrant violators of the law has not been marked with much success.

Mrs. George McNicol, of Seventh street, went to Pittsburgh today to have an arm treated that is affected in a peculiar manner. Some time since the lady had a severe attack of rheumatism that in some way caused the muscles of the arm to become bound and prevented the use of that member.

During the dance at Brunt's hall last night Joe Gape was so unfortunate as to have his hair badly singed. He was standing near a gas jet and in some manner his hair caught fire, making a very respectable blaze for a short time. Mr. Gape smothered the flames with his hands, but not until he had lost considerable hair.

Mrs. Voeltje, of Walnut street, received the sad intelligence yesterday that her father, Samuel Welsenberger, formerly a resident of this city, had succumbed to an attack of pneumonia in Syric, Switzerland. Mr. Welsenberger was aged 85 years and well known here. He left this place to go to the latter country about five years ago.

A girl, who resides in the First ward, and is opposed to the reading of the Bible in the public schools, entered a polling place in the Third ward and deposited a ballot. She was but 18 years of age, and was confronted by a number of people when she came out, and begged that they would say nothing of the occurrence, as she was told that 18 was a legal age for a girl. She was badly frightened.

Ground has been broken for the erection of a new business block at the corner of Sixth and Franklin streets. The small building that stood on the corner of the lot was moved in about 40 feet and the fence tore down. The residents of the West End had been in the habit of turning the corner when they reached the building, and on Monday night after it had become dark it was an amusing sight to see the people turn the corner as usual and begin to stumble around among the debris, many of them going half way across the lot before discovering their mistake.

THE NEWS REVIEW OFFICE.

A Question of Contrast.

"Hot, sir!" said the engine driver with what might have been either a shiver or a shrug. "No, sir, I don't call this hot. Warm, maybe, but hot, no!"

"Well," I panted, "I should like to know what you would call hot if this is only warm. Why, here's the mercury climbing up into the hundred and twenties, the leaves are scorching on the trees, and there isn't a breath of wind or a drop of cool water on earth. Really I don't think you'll find much hotter weather than this—at least not in this world."

"But I have had it," he said, a trifle testily, as though he didn't quite like the allusion. "Why, I was driving an engine once on a stretch of line in South America where it was so hot that we used to throw the furnace door open and stand close up to it so as to get that side of us cool—cool by contrast, sir. Goodby!"

Then he sauntered off whistling softly and climbed into the cab of his engine presumably to have a warm.—Pearson's Weekly.

We Lead, Let Those Who Can Follow.

Those Who Are Ill.

Marshal Wyman, who has been lying in a delirious state for the past two days, is much better today and perfectly rational. The attending physician says that he will be confined to his home for a few weeks.

Mrs. James Dunkerly, of East Market street, is confined to her home with illness.

John Cox, of California Hollow, is housed up with an attack of fever.

A. L. Wilson, of Robinson street, is able to be on the streets again after suffering with a relapse of typhoid fever.

Henry Reark, of Thompson Hill, is suffering from a severe attack of pleurisy.

C. A. Tucker is ill at his home on West Market street, with the grip.

Mrs. C. E. Surles, of Robinson street, is improving slowly.

Will Move Tomorrow.

The May Cameron London Gaiety Girls company, which had rented the room lately vacated by Lizzie Wilson, on Market street, for the purpose of giving a burlesque show each evening this week, did so without Mrs. R. B. Stevenson, the owner of the building, knowing the character of their entertainment. This afternoon Attorney Brookes and Mrs. Stevenson called on the manager of the company and arrangements were made whereby they will vacate in the morning.

Boarded a Steamer.

Charles Wassignary is perhaps the most vacillating man in the city. He is never content, and a situation is never offered him but he accepts. Some days ago he secured a position on the new bridge, but yesterday severed his connection with that concern. A towboat was plowing down the river and whistled for help on arriving in the city. Wassignary immediately threw down his tools and shipped as a deck hand.

After Two Years.

During the strike in the potteries Sam Hayes pawned his watch at a place where the three balls hang high. At a reception last night he was introduced to a man who had bought the ticker at the pawnshop. He recognized the watch by the case, and it was returned to him, the owner refusing to accept pay for the same. Sam was profuse in his thanks and thinks it a lucky coincidence.

Watson, Not Faulk.

A down town sheet in their election report last night said that Norris and Faulk were the members of school board from the Second ward. It would perhaps be well to send an instructor in addition to give lessons in the first branch of mathematics. Mrs. Deborah Watson, and not Sol J. Faulk, is one of the members from the Second ward.

E. Crites.

Mr. E. Crites, the well known and popular paper hanger, painter and general contractor, has opened up headquarters at No. 275 East Market street, next to Quick's grocery store, where all orders left will receive prompt and skillful attention. Prices reasonable. All work guaranteed.

A Good Address.

Those who failed to hear Rev. J. T. McCrory, of Pittsburg, last evening at the First U. P. church missed a rare treat. His subject, "Plucked as a Brand From the Burning," was handled in a masterly manner. Be sure and hear him tonight on a subject of practical interest to everyone.

A Heated Argument.

A heated argument occurred in an uptown restaurant this morning between two prominent citizens over the result of the election. The remarks that took place were spiced with a liberal sprinkling of profanity, so indignant was one of the debaters, because a favorite candidate got left.

Surprised Him.

James Green was agreeably surprised by having a number of his friends call on him in a body at his home on Fourth street last night. A large crowd were present and a most enjoyable time was had by all, the guests departing for their homes at a late hour.

Wants it Changed.

A letter was received at this office today from J. M. Aten in which he objects to the D which appeared after his name in the election table. He wants it understood that he is a Prohibitionist and not one of the un-terried.

Will Preach Tonight.

This evening at 7:30 o'clock Rev. R. M. Smith, of Baden, Pa., will preach the anniversary sermon to the Missionary league of the Evangelical Lutheran church. All are cordially invited.

On Duty.

John Weltz, driver for the Adams express company, is off duty today, on account of a sore knee, which he hurt some three weeks ago.

Those who never read the advertisements in their newspapers miss more than they presume. Jonathan Kenison, of Bolan, Worth company, Iowa, who had been troubled with rheumatism in his back, arms and shoulders, read an item in his paper about how a prominent German citizen of Ft. Madison had been cured. He procured the same medicine, and to use his own words: "It cured me right up." He also says: "A neighbor and his wife were both sick in bed with rheumatism. Their boy was over to my house and said they were so bad he had to do the cooking. I told him of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and how it had cured me; he got a bottle and it cured them up in a week. Fifty cent bottles for sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

Lost a Pug.

John Cartwright mourns the loss of a valuable pug dog, which has strayed or been stolen. He offers a reward for its return.

Our better halves say they could not keep house without Chamberlain's Cough remedy. It is used in more than half the homes in Leeds. Sims Bros., Leeds, Iowa. This shows the esteem in which that remedy is held where it has been sold for years and is well known. Mothers have learned that there is nothing so good for colds, croup and whooping cough, that it cures these ailments quickly and permanently, and that it is pleasant and safe for children to take. Twenty-five and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

The New Grounds.

The plans for the new ball ground across the river are being drawn up and the park will be an ideal one in every particular. The move is backed by men with money, and should prove a success in every particular.

JAPANESE FENCING.

SKILLFUL WORK WITH FOILS MADE OF SPLIT BAMBOO.

An Encounter Witnessed In the Sunrise Singlestick Club of Honolulu—Surprising Quickness and Skill In Attacking and Defending.

If you are ever asked to engage in a duel with a Japanese, being the challenged party, select any implement rather than the singlestick, for unless you are proficient in thrusts and parries you will be "done up" in short order.

In feudal times every able-bodied Japanese was obliged to become an expert swordsman, so that in the event of war he could go to the front and do his share of fighting. But with the improvement in the methods of warfare, which the Japanese were quick to adopt, the short sword has been relegated to the back yard and the shop of the bric-a-brac dealer, and fencing is merely a pastime known as gek ken. In the civil war in Japan, 18 years ago, however, there were certain companies of guards, armed with swords, who did some very effective and bloody work with them.

There is a club in Honolulu, with headquarters on Manakaea street, whose members have an instructor in the use of the singlestick. The organization is solely for amusement, rather than for business, though there is probably a desire on the part of the leaders to perpetuate the old fashioned methods of their forefathers in quelling rebellions. Just now this club, the Sunrise, is without an instructor, so that there is but little practice and no exhibitions.

The headquarters of the Sunrise Singlestick club is on the lower floor of the building occupied by the Japanese newspaper of the same name. Through the kindness of Editor Satto, and Hiraoka, business manager of the paper, a reporter was given an opportunity to witness an exhibition between Yajimai and Kariakawa, two expert handlers of the sticks.

By the way of introduction the combatants removed their kimonos and donned loose skirts and a helmet with strong iron bars across the face. Then they sheathed their bodies with stiff bamboo breastplates. Heavily padded gloves with gauntlets finished the costume. The "short sticks" are about five feet long, and are made of several pieces of bamboo fastened together. There seemed to be no call of "time" by a referee. The men stepped to the center of the room and saluted each other by a motion of the arm, and then one uttered a guttural sound signifying his unwillingness to begin the fray and they crossed sticks, the point of each being held on a level with the neck and the handle grasped with both hands.

Yajimai led, and throughout the bout was acting on the offensive, while Kariakawa braced himself so as to resist and ward off any blow that might be directed toward him. Once he was thoughtless. Yajimai gave him a crack on the helmet that resounded through the room. All the time the men were fencing they were shouting as if warning each other to look out for what might be coming.

To the stranger who is not familiar with the rules there seemed to be no rest for the men. If one should receive a blow which under ordinary circumstances would warrant his going down for a few seconds, long enough to recover, it must simply end with the desire, and his next move will be to get back at his opponent. In this exhibition Kariakawa, who was rather more stockily built than his foe, had the best of the first of the fight, but the end was a draw, and the men retired windless and with the perspiration pouring from their faces.

The wrist seemed to be the part of the anatomy oftenest aimed at, and while that part of the arm is protected by a padded gauntlet the humerus is bare, and a strong blow means a heavy welt and a sore arm. At the end of the contest spoken of, here Yajimai carried a mark which was quite blue. If a blow on the wrist is severe enough, it will disable a fencer, and the fight ends, and if it cannot be accomplished in that way a fencer will raise his stick high above and inclined toward the back of his head, very much after the style of ancient executioners in the chopping block process, and bring it down with all his strength on his rival's head—if he can. Celerity marks every movement of the fencer, so that the observer's eye is taxed to its utmost to keep track of the men.

Singlestick fencing among the Japanese is so different from anything attempted by the white people that it is difficult to make comparisons or draw conclusions. If quickness in an attack or parry is the secret of the game, Yajimai and Kariakawa should be entitled to positions as experts. Their endurance, too, is remarkable, considering the thickness of the clothing worn. Swathed as they are in heavily padded suits, evidently much depends upon the eye, and it is when one of the fencers catches the eye of his opponent off his guard that he attempts a blow, but to ascertain when the eye is not attending to its business is much too difficult for a stranger to solve, shielded as the fencer's face is with iron bars set closely together.

There are four points in a match with singlesticks between Japanese—a blow on the back of head, a fair one, for glancing strokes do not count; a thrust at the throat, a stroke on the wrist and a stroke on the side. There is no rule as to the position a fencer must occupy in delivering any one of these blows—it may be from either side and from one or both hands. If it is a "chopper," it is apt to be one that will make the man receiving it wince, even though he be protected by all sorts of grotesque contrivances.—Pacific Commercial Advertiser.

What a Boy Can Do.

A recent poem in the children's page asks, "What can a boy do anyhow?" Well, by the proper use of a tack he can make his pa talk in four different languages; by dropping a little ammonia on her back he can make the family cat drill a hole through the woodshed; by his free and disingenuous conversation to his sister's best young man he can make that sister cherish pessimistic feelings toward the universe. What can't a boy do?—Minneapolis Journal.

Those Who Are Ill.

Marshal Wyman, who has been lying in a delirious state for the past two days, is much better today and perfectly rational. The attending physician says that he will be confined to his home for a few weeks.

Mrs. James Dunkerly, of East Market street, is confined to her home with illness.

John Cox, of California Hollow, is housed up with an attack of fever.

A. L. Wilson, of Robinson street, is able to be on the streets again after suffering with a relapse of typhoid fever.

Henry Reark, of Thompson Hill, is suffering from a severe attack of pleurisy.

C. A. Tucker is ill at his home on West Market street, with the grip.

Mrs. C. E. Surles, of Robinson street, is improving slowly.

Will Move Tomorrow.

The May Cameron London Gaiety Girls company, which had rented the room lately vacated by Lizzie Wilson, on Market street, for the purpose of giving a burlesque show each evening this week, did so without Mrs. R. B. Stevenson, the owner of the building, knowing the character of their entertainment. This afternoon Attorney Brookes and Mrs. Stevenson called on the manager of the company and arrangements were made whereby they will vacate in the morning.

Boarded a Steamer.

Charles Wassnary is perhaps the most vacillating man in the city. He is never content, and a situation is never offered him but he accepts. Some days ago he secured a position on the new bridge, but yesterday severed his connection with that concern. A towboat was plowing down the river and whistled for help on arriving in the city. Wassnary immediately threw down his tools and shipped as a deck hand.

After Two Years.

During the strike in the potteries Sam Hayes pawned his watch at a place where the three balls hang high. At a reception last night he was introduced to a man who had bought the ticker at the pawnshop. He recognized the watch by the case, and it was returned to him, the owner refusing to accept pay for the same. Sam was profuse in his thanks and thinks it a lucky coincidence.

Watson, Not Faulk.

A down town sheet in their election report last night said that Norris and Faulk were the members of school board from the Second ward. It would perhaps be well to send an instructor in addition to give lessons in the first branch of mathematics. Mrs. Deborah Watson, and not Sol J. Faulk, is one of the members from the Second ward.

E. Crites.

Mr. E. Crites, the well known and popular paper hanger, painter and general contractor, has opened up headquarters at No. 275 East Market street, next to Quick's grocery store, where all orders left will receive prompt and skillful attention. Prices reasonable. All work guaranteed.

A Good Address.

Those who failed to hear Rev. J. T. McCrory, of Pittsburg, last evening at the First U. P. church missed a rare treat. His subject, "Plucked as a Brand From the Burning," was handled in a masterly manner. Be sure and hear him tonight on a subject of practical interest to everyone.

A Heated Argument.

A heated argument occurred in an uptown restaurant this morning between two prominent citizens over the result of the election. The remarks that took place were spiced with a liberal sprinkling of profanity, so indignant was one of the debaters, because a favorite candidate got left.

Surprised Him.

James Green was agreeably surprised by having a number of his friends call on him in a body at his home on Fourth street last night. A large crowd were present and a most enjoyable time was had by all, the guests departing for their homes at a late hour.

Wants it Changed.

A letter was received at this office today from J. M. Aten in which he objects to the D which appeared after his name in the election table. He wants it understood that he is a Prohibitionist and not one of the unfortunates.

Will Preach Tonight.

This evening at 7:30 o'clock Rev. R. M. Smith, of Baden, Pa., will preach the anniversary sermon to the Missionary league of the Evangelical Lutheran church. All are cordially invited.

Off Duty.

John Weltz, driver for the Adams express company, is off duty today, on account of a sore knee, which he hurt some three weeks ago.

Those who never read the advertisements in their newspapers miss more than they presume. Jonathan Kenison, of Bolan, Worth company, Iowa, who had been troubled with rheumatism in his back, arms and shoulders, read an item in his paper about how a prominent German citizen of Ft. Madison had been cured. He procured the same medicine, and to use his own words: "It cured me right up." He also says: "A neighbor and his wife were both sick in bed with rheumatism. Their boy was over to my house and said they were so bad he had to do the cooking. I told him of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and how it had cured me; he got a bottle and it cured them up in a week. Fifty cent bottles for sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist."

Lost a Pug.

John Cartwright mourns the loss of a valuable pug dog, which has strayed or been stolen. He offers a reward for its return.

Our better halves say they could not keep house without Chamberlain's Cough remedy. It is used in more than half the homes in Leeds. Sims Bros., Leeds, Iowa. This shows the esteem in which that remedy is held where it has been sold for years and is well known. Mothers have learned that there is nothing so good for colds, croup and whooping cough, that it cures these ailments quickly and permanently, and that it is pleasant and safe for children to take. Twenty-five and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

If quickness in an attack or parry is the secret of the game, Yajimai and Karikawa should be entitled to positions as experts. Their endurance, too, is remarkable, considering the thickness of the clothing worn. Swathed as they are in heavily padded suits, evidently much depends upon the eye, and it is when one of the fencers catches the eye of his opponent off his guard that he attempts a blow, but to ascertain when the eye is not attending to its business is much too difficult for a stranger to solve, shielded as the fencer's face is with iron bars set closely together.

There are four points in a match with singleticks between Japanese—a blow on the back of head, a fair one, for glancing strokes do not count; a thrust at the throat, a stroke on the wrist and a stroke on the side. There is no rule as to the position a fencer must occupy in delivering any one of these blows—it may be from either side and from one or both hands. If it is a "chopper," it is apt to be one that will make the man receiving it wince, even though he be protected by all sorts of grotesque contrivances.—Pacific Commercial Advertiser.

What a Boy Can Do.

A recent poem in the children's page asks, "What can a boy do anyhow?" Well, by the proper use of a tack he can make his pa talk in four different languages; by dropping a little ammonia on her back he can make the family cat drill a hole through the woodshed; by his free and disingenuous conversation to his sister's best young man he can make that sister cherish pessimistic feelings toward the universe. What can't a boy do?—Minneapolis Journal.

RESOLUTIONS DECLARING IT NECESSARY TO IMPROVE THE STREET KNOWN AS LINDEN ROAD OR BRADSHAW AVENUE, FROM WALNUT STREET TO THE WEST LINE OF AVONDALE STREET.

Resolved, That in the opinion of the council of the city of East Liverpool (two-thirds of all the members elected thereto concurring) it is necessary to improve Hudson Road or Bradshaw avenue, from Walnut street to the west line of Avondale street, in the following manner: First, by paving the roadway of the said street, as it is now opened, with hard burned paving brick, set on edge, from Walnut street to the East side of Ravine street; second, by setting the curb and paving the sidewalk on the north side of said street, from the west line of Buckeye pottery to the line of Avondale street; third, by setting the curb and paving the sidewalk on the south side of said street from Walnut street to the west line of Ravine street. The work to be done in accordance with the plans and specifications on file in the office of the City Engineer, and that the cost and expense of the said improvement, less the cost of improving intersections and one-fifth of the entire cost be assessed on the property bounding and abutting on said street between the points above named, and the City Clerk is hereby directed to cause legal notice of the passage of this resolution to be served on the proper persons and publication of this resolution to be made and make return, as required by law. All persons claiming damages in consequence of the said improvement must file their claims therewith with the City Clerk within four weeks from the first publication of this resolution or within twenty days after the service of the written notice of the passage of the same.

Passed this 20th day of March, 1896.
